SourceOne®

Eclipse Mining Technologies designed a collaborative enterprise knowledge performance system for mining that revolutionizes data connectivity and data management to improve processes, manage risk, and facilitate future technology adoption such as advanced analytics, artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML).

Mines will OWN and have access to ALL their data using the SourceOne® system.

Reduce your risk with the SourceOne system as it organizes, aggregates, and stores data and its context to drill down into your data history.
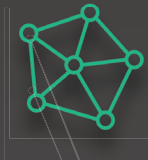

ONE SINGLE SOURCE OF TRUTH.
ONE UNIFIED MINE.

UNIVERSAL DATA MANAGEMENT

The SourceOne® Enterprise Knowledge Performance System allows for easy access and organization of all mine data. All your data is accessible from a secure central location, no matter the format or source. This unique system enables you to retrieve, collect and curate all your data in one place.
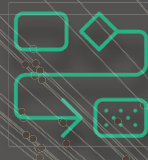

SIMPLIFIED DATA INTEGRATION

Now your mine can work as "one" with open data access. The SourceOne system brings together all of the data collected from your multiple applications, formats, or product line platforms – breaking down traditional barriers.

DIGITAL WORKFLOW AUTOMATION

A seamless hands–off approach to data management. Within the SourceOne system, processes are flexible and can be triggered automatically or run at a specific time so that the system is doing all the work, allowing you to focus on running the mine.

ACTIONABLE INSIGHTS

Access the power of your data with credible, actionable insights, all in one place. Unlock advanced analytics with the SourceOne system's data platform that manages your technology and prepares the data it generates.
